TEMPERANCE MEN PLEASED

Local Option Did Better in Ontario
Than at First Reported

CLOSE VOTE IN BRANTFORD
Only Thirty-Five Short of Polling Three-Fifths—The Bylaw Carried in Seventy-Nine Places

Toronto, Jan. 5.—Additional returns from the local option campaign make the temperance victory more creditable. All but five places out of a total of 161 have been heard from, but the final figures cannot offset the local option gains greatly in any event. The by-law is now carried in 79 places. It has been lost through three-fifths clause in 57 places, and has been defeated in 17 places. The repeals number 2. The official figures from the city of Brantford are 2714 against 1900. This gives a majority of 814 for local option, but is short by a bare 35 votes of the three-fifths stipulation. A recount has been decided on and the temperance organization is being maintained for further effort. Participants in the local option fray express in various ways satisfaction over the result of the vote. "It is generally conceded," said one supporter of the movement, "that the strong arm of public sentiment has decided to wield an inextinguishable weapon, the vote, until the liquor traffic has succumbed. In other words, the death sentence is pronounced, but it will partake of the gradual nature of torture as the public arm grows stronger with each successive stroke."

DUE TO APOPLEXY

Verdict at Inquest into Death of the Finlander, Joe Anderson

"Death due to apoplexy," was the verdict of the coroner's jury yesterday after inquiring into the circumstances of the finding of the dead body of Joe Anderson, a Finlander, in the Grand View Hotel on Friday night.

The evidence went to show that the deceased had been drinking heavily for three or four days prior to his death and that he was an habitual drunkard. Dr. Hislop testified that the bursting of a blood vessel in the brain was the technical cause of death, but that this might have been caused by an overstrain or sudden shock and was not necessarily due to the use of alcohol.

The jury seemed content to state that death was due to a prolonged alcoholic spree.

H. H. Parlee appeared at the inquest, on behalf of the United Aids Society, but saw no reason why censure should be lodged against the keeper of the hotel. The jury did not undertake to reprimand anyone in the matter. Geo. H. O'Connor was present on behalf of Robt. Klein, proprietor of the hotel.

The gentlemen of the jury were: S. Smith, chairman; A. Andrews, J. S. Agar, J. D. Blayney, J. Chamberlain and S. W. Candy.

MR. BALFOUR'S ATTITUDE

As to Possibility of Conflict Between Britain and Germany

DEFINED LAST EVENING

The Navy, Socialism and Tariff Reform the Issues—Liberals Favorites in Betting

London, Eng., Jan. 5.—Hon. A. J. Balfour, speaking at Hanley last night, said he would confine himself to the navy, to socialism and to tariff reform. He hoped and believed that Germany and England would not come into conflict, but said the diplomats of the lesser powers did not share this view. He insisted that Great Britain was in a position as regards the navy which she had not been without memory of living men. Indeed, her naval superiority on her own seas was threatened within her future.

"I don't believe," he continued, "there is going to be war between this country and any great foreign power. Heaven knows I don't desire it, and I don't believe it. But please remember that absolutely the only way in which you can secure peace which you all desire is that you shall be sure of victory if war takes place." (Cheers). The Empire existed only on suzerainty, he said, if her navy was not supreme. He was not content to exist on suzerainty.

Liberals Favorites.

London, Jan. 5.—The betting on the general election at Lloyds is 7 to 3 in favor of the Liberals.

DEBENTURES FOR $152,000

Sold to a Toronto Firm by Edmonton Commissioners at 98.72

PRICE IS CONSIDERED GOOD

Though Not the Best City has Obtained—Mayor Wants Money for Water and Sewer Extensions

The offer of 98.72 by the Brouse Mitchell Co. of Toronto for city of Edmonton debentures to the amount of $152,000 has been accepted by the commissioners to whom the matter was referred by the council at the last regular meeting.

The money raised by the sale of these debentures will be applied to the purchase of the new market site, to the acquiring of the McDonald property on the old market square, and to the payment of the $50,000 grant to the public hospital.

Another sale of debentures is in view to provide the funds for local improvements such as the proposed water and sewage extensions in the city. The mayor stated this morning that he is anxious to have the money on hand as soon as possible so that the work may be undertaken without any great delay.

The sale of debentures to the Toronto firm is not the best that the city has made, but it is considered very good.

101st FUSILIERS

The signalling class which has been conducted for some time under Sergeant Major Day will be resumed next Wednesday at the Separate School. At centers throughout the Dominion where no specific provision is made for holding signalling classes, and where an officer or n.c.o. is in possession of a signalling certificate, the militia orders suggest that classes shall be held regimentally, under their instruction, and when sufficiently advanced to ensure the services of a permanent instructor application may be made for a n.c.o. to be detailed to proceed to any such centre for a period not exceeding two weeks to prepare the section for annual inspection. General order 124 of December 31st last authorizes badges and buttons for the 101st Regiment of Edmonton Fusiliers. The helmet, collar and cap badges are artistic designs in which the words 101, Tudor crowns and Edmonton Fusiliers are beautifully blended. The buttons are plain burnished and bear a small figure of a bear in the centre with the Tudor crown above and the figures "101" beneath.

LIVE STOCK NOT DWINDLING

Alberta Producers Received at Least Nine Million Dollars in 1909

MR. McMULLEN HAS HOPES

That There will be Even a Bigger Increase in the Province During the Coming Year

Calgary, Jan. 5.—Although full returns for the year have not yet been received, Mr. McMullen, Live Stock Agent of the Canadian Pacific Railway, yesterday estimated that live stock producers in Alberta received $9,000,000 for their products last year. "That takes in horses, cattle, sheep and hogs," said Mr. McMullen, "and although some of the live stock was sold in Alberta, the majority of it was exported, and this means that a large amount of money was brought into the province."

"Then the report that the live stock industry of the province is falling off is without foundation," was asked, and Mr. McMullen replied very emphatically:

"It is better than ever," he said, "and I look for an even bigger increase during the coming year. A number of stock buyers became panic stricken when they saw the farmers taking up land and going in for wheat raising, evidently thinking that they would neglect stock raising. However, they are beginning to realize that this is not the case, and that the live stock industry is not suffering in the least."

LOOKING FORWARD TO 1912.

The Edmonton Exhibition Association has secured a first-class man to push it along.

The year 1912 is looked forward to as one which will mark a new era for the city. It is doubtful if in the history of this continent there has ever been a community in which so many giant railway enterprises were centering at one time. Two years from this coming summer will see the different lines, under construction, in 1910, in operation. The G.T.P. will have been completed through to the coast, according to a statement made by Mr. Chamberlain and quoted on this page. The C.P.R. will have crossed the North Saskatchewan and will probably by that time be reaching out into the new northwest. The C.N.R. has already its grade finished over 40 miles in the direction of Grande Prairie, and with the trust that is in prospect into that district will no doubt hurry this branch ahead.

By 1910 more than half of the time stipulated for it to get through to the Coast in order to carry out its agreement with the British Columbia government will have elapsed, and its main line will then be well beyond the Yellowhead. The Alberta and Great Waterways, which has established a record by the speed with which it has emerged from the stage of newspaper talk to that of actual construction, will be running to Fort McMurray, and the work of opening up the mineral resources of the north will have been begun. The indications are that the mining operations which will be inaugurated north of Edmonton will attract world-wide attention, for the wealth discovered at Cobalt is as nothing compared with that which there is little reason to doubt lies in this hinterland of ours. In addition to all this, branch lines have been run out in many different directions. One of the most important is that to the Brazeau coal-fields, which are pronounced to be fully equal to those in the Crow's Nest.

How anybody can be pessimistic with regard to the city's immediate or ultimate future, in the face of all this, is a mystery. This is not the feeling, fortunately, of any of those in positions of responsibility. The directors of the Exhibition Association foresee clearly what such development means and have determined to signalize the year 1912 by a great exhibition, which will bring to the notice of the world the wonderful progress that Edmonton has made, and the opportunities which the city and the immense territory tributary to it offer to those looking for investment for surplus wealth and to those whose main capital consists of a clear head and a strong pair of arms. The fact that new exhibition grounds are now being taken over gives an excellent opportunity for planning on a large scale. The annual fairs of 1908 and 1909 will not be neglected, but the main object of their policy will be to stimulate interest in that of 1912 and to assure its being made worthy of the sum of events which it is intended to celebrate.

The Association has been very fortunate in securing the services of Mr. Arthur G. Harrison, who will devote his whole time to the work of fair management. To whatever task he undertakes Mr. Harrison brings rare intelligence, tact and energy. For the next two and a half years he will think and talk nothing else but exhibition, and if he doesn't bring the scheme to a fruition that we can all be proud of, The Capital is very much mistaken. But in making this forecast we assume that he will have the whole-hearted support of all the citizens of Edmonton. He will need this, and we think he can depend upon their public spirit to secure it for him.

What Others Say

THE ROWDY NEW YEAR'S EVE

(Chicago Tribune)

It may be argued that the person who wishes to put a sore head on the infant year by alcoholic proceedings, "there and after its birth" has that privilege if he elects to enjoy it. It is needless to become contentious over this issue and it may be dismissed with the statement that in 1910 so far as likely to make himself a nuisance to all not similarly engaged, whether he has the right or not. The question just now is whether the law intends to go to sleep and permit an illegal extension of drunkenness, which is none the less rowdy because it starts in evening dress and costs much money to acquire.

Chief Steward, if his intentions have been given to the public accurately, will stop the sale, but not the drinking of liquor in the restaurants in which the virtuous annually allow themselves to enjoy a season of festivity which need not meet with their approval the other 364 days in the year. This means that a man's privilege to enjoy life alcoholically will be limited only by his prophetic ability to gauge his capacity. If he orders liberally at 12-45 a.m., he may sit in front of the flowing bowl until the proprietor is tired of keeping the place open and hands him his hat.

Mr. Steward is reported as saying that this is the best he can do. The city is becoming accustomed to accepting his "best" as satisfactory and in noticing must be sublimely impressed by the huge towering ship-building gantries 200 feet high and 1,000 feet long which loom up a mighty structure to the eyes of the voyager as the ship which carries him to the shores of Ireland enters the fairway between Carrickfergus on the Antrim side and Greyhound Battery, County Down. Long before he can trace the outline of the great central city of the Irish shipbuilding and linen industries these colossal landmarks are distinctly defined against the southern horizon.

THE NEW REMITTANCE MAN

(Ottawa Journal)

The term "remittance man" as applied to Englishmen residing in Canada, and receiving incomes from England, has, in the past, sometimes been used as a reproach. Possibly the reason for this is found in the fact that in the early days of the country, some few rather useless Englishmen were of this class, and having money—an unusual thing in the past—were at that time their eccentricities got a great deal more notice in the thinly populated districts than their importance deserved.

An inconspicuous return in connection with the post office money department for the past year shows how different are the Englishmen making their way in Canada at the present time, and how well, as a class, they are succeeding in the home of their adoption.

In the past fiscal year there have come from Britain to Canada post office money orders to the value of a million and a half dollars.

In the past fiscal year there have been sent to Britain from Canada post office money orders to the value of over five million dollars.

Of course, between the two countries money comes and goes through other sources in addition to the post office, but there is reason to believe that this proportion of outflow and income does not hold good in the sum of the entire Canadian-British transactions.

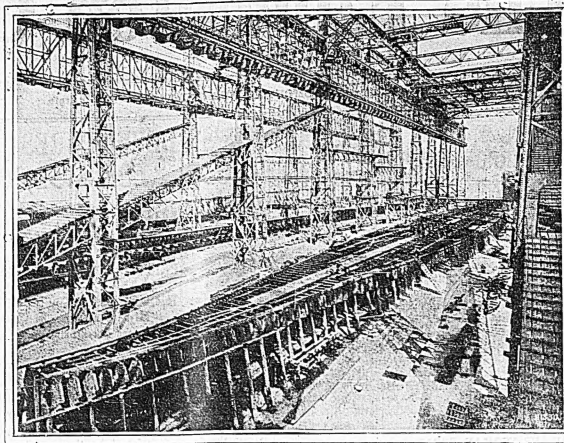

Canada still has the British remittance men, but they have made the term one of worth and honor. For the remittances now go from, and not to, Canada, and are indicative that a large number of recent comers from the British Isles have prospered in Canada that they are able to send substantial sums to parents, brothers, sisters and others left behind, when they turned their face to Canada.

LET'S SEE SOME OF THE TRAINS

(Montreal Herald)

Mr. E. J. Chamberlain, vice president and general manager of the Grand Trunk Railway, has just returned from the West, and speaks most hopefully of the progress of the road construction in that part of Canada. He is of opinion that the company will be running its own trains to the Pacific in 1912, and perhaps before. The mild weather that has been experienced the other side of Edmonton has allowed the work to proceed without hindrance. With regard to the Winnipeg and Edmonton stretch, Mr. Chamberlain says that the line is in such good condition that one of their locomotives will be able to draw a train of three thousand tons as against half that amount of the other companies.

THE LARGEST SHIPS EVER BUILT

Slips for the construction of the Olympic and the Titanic.

Visitors to the commercial capital of Ireland by way of the Victoria Channel through Belfast Lough for the first time cannot fail to notice and in noticing must be sublimely impressed by the huge towering ship-building gantries 200 feet high and 1,000 feet long which loom up a mighty structure to the eyes of the voyager as the ship which carries him to the shores of Ireland enters the fairway between Carrickfergus on the Antrim side and Greyhound Battery, County Down. Long before he can trace the outline of the great central city of the Irish shipbuilding and linen industries these colossal landmarks are distinctly defined against the southern horizon.

It is underneath these huge structures the mighty White Star liners Olympic and Titanic, the most enormous vessels ever built are being welded into shape, and already through the intricate steel latticework the outline of the former vessel is every day becoming more manifest to the observer. Night and day for six days in each week the work goes on unceasingly, and has been going on for some nine or ten months past.

The entire framework—the skeleton, so to speak—of the Olympic has been completed, the after-body decks up to the upper deck have been placed, and amidships and forward the lower deck beams have been placed in position. From the engine-room aft the hold columns and deck girders have been fitted in conjunction with the framing to obviate the necessity of the usual wood shoring aft. Then, again, the shell plating of the giant steamer has been completed to just above the upper turn of the bilge, the whole so far having been hydraulic riveted from the keel up.

The stern frame weighing over seventy-two tons, was placed in position fully six weeks ago, and the boss arms weighing forty-three and a half tons, aft and forty-five tons forward, have likewise been built into the framework, and only a few days ago, the bed plates, three in number, each weighing over fifty tons, were cast and are ready to be fitted into their allotted space in the engine room.

It is a noteworthy fact that the rivets in the ship's double bottom, including the water ballast tank number half a million and weigh 20 tons. The heaviest single plate weighs about four and a half tons and is 36 feet long, while the largest beam is a trifle over four tons and 92 feet long. By and by the rudder, which is being forged on the northeast coast of England, and will weigh close upon 125 tons, probably the largest single forging in the world, will be placed in position, and this last operation will more or less complete the outward hull work of the ship.

Early in the progress of the work of construction a difficulty arose in connection with the shoring and staging of the ends of the vessel owing to the great height of the latter from the ground, but this was eventually overcome by means of a number of light come by means of trestles, which were constructed for staging and shoring purposes. Meanwhile in the engine shop, an immense building, on the other side of the Queen's Road from the shipyard, work is steadily proceeding with the two high-pressure reciprocating and one low-pressure turbine engines for the Olympic, which will be finished simultaneously with the launching of the ship during the early Autumn of next year. At present there are over 1,000 men employed on the hull of the big vessel and probably 500 more in the engine shop, but as the work progresses jobs will be found for additional hands until the great undertaking approaches completion at most 3,000 workmen, including carpenters, joiners, cabinetmakers, artificers, decorators, etc., will be swarming all over the structure, each man and squad of men to their allotted tasks.

The work on the Titanic, which occupies the inner berth is not so far advanced as in the sister ship. The task before it, however, been practically completed, and in a few days' time the framework will be tackled, the understanding being that at least four months will elapse between the launching of the two vessels.

Relative to the actual dimensions of the two ships nothing in the shape of official data has been allowed as yet to transpire, but from statements that have been made at different times by those supposed to be in the know it is understood that the length will be approximately 840 feet, beam 92 feet, and depth 64 feet, with a gross tonnage of between 45,000 and 47,000 tons.

That is to say, they will be from forty-five to fifty feet longer than the Mauretania, with a tonnage exceeding that of the largest of the two big Cunarders of about 12,000 tons, which represents a still larger tonnage of the five big Orient liners recently launched on the Clyde and at Belfast. Then again the displacement of the new White Star boats will be about 60,000 tons each, as against the 45,000 tons of the Lusitania. Driven by engines with a 30,000 (combined) horse power, the speed, it is intended shall not exceed twenty-one knots, and what is of especial interest to the city on the Lagan, the vessels are to be registered at the Port of Belfast.

The carrying capacity of the new liners, the first of which, it is expected, will not be completely equipped and ready for sea until early in the year 1911, will exceed that of any other ship afloat by one-third. Under normal conditions each liner will carry 5,000 persons all told.

There will be accommodation for 600 first cabin passengers, about the same number of second cabin, some 2,000 steerage passengers and the crew will number about 600 hands. Each vessel will have nine steel decks, and on the upper of these there will be a spacious entrance hall, dining saloons, smoking rooms, libraries, women's parlors, grill, lounge rooms, and restaurants, as well as the main saloon about 90 feet wide.

One of the upper decks is to be completely enclosed to serve as a ballroom or skating rink. Instead of canvas partitions or awnings to keep out wind and rain the whole will be enclosed with glass windows similar to those in railway carriages.

By day the spacious apartments may be used as a sun parlor or promenade, and it will be large enough to enable several hundred passengers to move about with ease and comfort.

In addition to extended suites of rooms, complete flats will be available, thus making it possible to cross the Atlantic in the enjoyment of all the privacy of one's own home.

The ocean-going "flats" will comprise bed rooms, sitting rooms, private bathrooms, and even private library, all en suite. Cabins, with special shower baths attached, a great salt water swimming bath, large enough to permit of diving, and a well-equipped gymnasium are to be among the features which will be introduced.

The main dining saloon will be furnished to seat 600 persons at once, and should a guest tire of this grand chamber he can wander from one cafe to another—each day have his meals in a different apartment.

The veranda cafe will also be a leading feature of these ships. It will be placed on one of the upper decks, eastern, fully fifty feet above the sea level, and it will be constructed on exposed rafters, entwined with vines and creeping plants, and have latticed sides. It will make the illusion of a gazebo at the seaside almost perfect. Each steamer will be divided into upward of thirty steel compartments separated by heavy bulkheads. An automatic device on the bridge will control all these heavy steel doors, making it possible for a single hand to close them all in an instant in case of danger. Each of these doors will be electrically connected with a chart on the bridge, where each door will be represented by a small electric light, and when one of these doors closes, the light will burn red, but while it remains open the disk will be quite dark. The officer on the bridge will thus be able to see at a glance whether or not all the compartments have been closed.

Yet another set of safety devices will guard against fire in any portion of the vessel. A series of thermostats will be scattered throughout the great framework, so arranged as to indicate a rise in the temperature above a certain point. Should the temperature reach the danger point the fact will be immediately communicated to the officer on the bridge by the ringing of an electric bell, while an electric light on a great chart on the wall will burn red.

Each ship will have three propellers, and the four Cunarders will carry four funnels and two steel pole ventilator masts. They will also be fitted with wireless installations and search lights, as well as the now inevitable daily bulletin newspaper.

At present the works constructing these leviathans is more or less under the superintendence of the Right Hon. A. M. Carlisle, the managing director of Messrs. Harland & Wolff, but as the boats begin to reach the completion stage, Lord Pirie, chairman of the company, will personally inspect every detail especially in the fitting up and interior economy of the steamers in regard to the proper arrangement.

A Lot of "Bargain Sales" Are Now Hatching in "The Opportunity Incubator!"

The mistakes of store-buyers in estimating the buying moods of the people—in forecasting the demands for certain kinds of goods—result in "store-congestion," a mercantile ailment that always requires ample publicity treatment for its relief. Thus are "bargains" created—and marketed. Thus it is that advertisers and answerers profit by the inevitable mistakes of fellow human beings.

In all the walks of life people are given to blundering—to "overstocking," to putting something, some personal contribution, into "the opportunity incubator." In the fulness of time the old incubator yields its prizes to those who wait and watch—who read and answer ads.

That's why the ads. are not only INTERESTING—as giving clues to phases of life both droll and tragic—but are so IMPORTANT, in that they hold for us, for each of us personally, some Pandora-box mystery, some unexpected bit of good luck.

FABLE OF THE WIZE GUY

He Puts on a Big Front but Finally Gets Called by the High School Boys

Once upon a time there was a Wise Gink named Oscar, who knew it all. He was a Dope Artist, and was always around with the Noisy Chatter. He knew just how to do everything from Steering a pony to Shooting Crap, and was strong to hand to the Bank to all the Hot Sports. To let him tell it he was the only and original Information Kid.

For all his Bump of Wisdom no one had ever seen him Perform. Though he knew how to play Masse's Shots all around Willie Hoppe, and was always ready to tell any guy how to do those Three Cushion Miracles, his skill was a matter of reputation. People used to brag about his Wonderful Class in all Branches of Sport, but as to the Present Performance, The Jury were Not In.

But where Our Hero was the Principal Cheese in the Delicatessen Store was Baseball—to let him tell it. As a pitcher his Press Agent Talk made you sorry for Mathewson and the rest of those slab Slingers in the Big League, and the wonder was that he did not have to call out the reserves to keep the sidewalk in front of his Hash Joint free from managers who wished him to name his own price. His batting averages made Wagner and Cobb look like the hole in the doughnut, and as a Fielder—Well, Of Course!

One day the manager of the High School team asked Our Hero to Hot-Foot out to the field and throw up some Hard ones as the boys needed the chance to hit a Real Ball, and when it got noised around that Little Oscar, the Wise Guy was to perform, all the Main Noises in town beat it to the side lines to Cheer him on.

When the Captain faced Oscar in fear and Trembling, Oscar said: "I'm so the mob can see how I do it, I am going to fan you now, but next time I will try to let you Foul One or Two."

But strange to say, Oscar fell on his bean right there. For the first time he slung up the Ball, the Captain hit it a Fearful Wallop on the nose and dented the Nice New Paint on the Centre Field Fence and then the inquest began. Oscar tried hard, but he was a pipe for the Kids, who whaled him all over the lot, and when he got the ball as far as the Platter.

On the way up Main Street, Oscar said, "Well, I didn't try anyway, and besides, I had a 'Bum Wing'."

MORAL—THAT'S WHAT THEY ALL SAY.

In what was undoubtedly the fastest and clearest game yet played in the Calgary senior hockey league this year, the green-garbed St. Mary's defeated the Tigers by a six to four score at the Auditorium rink last night.

The victory was very popular, and without discrediting the Tigers in any way, the verdict of the big crowd that attended the game was that "the best team won."

The teams lined up as follows:
St. Mary's—Goal, Tansey; point, Walton; cover, Walper; rover, McHugh; centre, McKenzie; right, Sparrow; left, Goslin.

CALGARY VIEWS ON BASEBALL

The Albertan Says Western Canada League is Just About Dead

"What is doing in the Western Baseball league? Is the question which is being asked from time to time and nothing in the way of an answer is given. Not a word has been heard since the annual meeting of the league a couple of months ago. Then it was stated that the league would have the same boundaries and the same representatives that it has at the present time. But Medicine Hat people inform the Albertan that that town will certainly not be represented in the league this summer. There is practically no chance. That will change the condition of affairs very much this season.

Edmonton is the only club that is at all active in preparing for next year, and Deaton White seems to be very busy with the contracts.

The official batting and fielding averages have not been published yet; and it seems as though they would not be ready for the dope book, which will be out before very long, which will be very unfortunate."—Calgary Albertan.

CITY LEAGUE OPENS THURSDAY

There Will be a Double-Header Tomorrow Evening—Y.M.C.A. vs. Queens—J. H. Morris vs. Deacons

The opening games of the city league series will take place Thursday at the Thistle Rink. The boys have been practising faithfully for over a month now, and are all in good shape. The teams are evenly matched and two good months of amateur hockey is in sight for Edmonton fans.

The great drawback to amateur leagues in the past has been the meagre patronage accorded by the public. The boys are at heavy expense for the rink and it is only fair that the citizens should turn out in goodly numbers and show the teams that their efforts to keep hockey alive are appreciated.

There will be double headers every Thursday evening. The first game commencing at 8 p.m. sharp and the second at 9:15. Tomorrow night both games will be handled by thoroughly competent officials, Jack Winchester, referee and Harold Deaton, judge of play, and they will make the most play hockey from the drop of the hat. General admission is 25 cents, which admits to both games. The fixtures for tomorrow, are: 8 p.m., Y. M. C.

A. v. Queens; 9:15 p.m., J. H. Morris vs. Deacons.

The line-up of the several teams will be published in Thursday's paper.

Now everybody get out and help to keep amateur hockey alive in Edmonton.

GALT STANLEY CUP TEAM

Individual Histories of the Challenging Team—They Play Ottawa To-night

The Galt professional hockey team, which plays Ottawa on Wednesday and Friday for the Stanley Cup will be:

William Bannerman will play goal in place of Walter Mercer. Billy learnt the game in the Ottawa city league and played last season with the Hailybury team in the Silver league. Pete Charlton, who will play point, is the veteran of the team. Charlton was a member of the Toronto Marlboros when they played the Ottawas six years ago. He then played cover point. Charlton is a Toronto boy, fast and aggressive.

"Ras" Murphy, cover, is an Ottawa boy. He played with the Prince Rupert team in the city league and then with the Capital lacrosse team. This is Murphy's second year with the Galt team. He is a great shot and frequently carries the puck the length of the ice. Murphy is considered to be the best all round man on the team.

Art. Serviss, captain, and rover comes from Smith's Falls. He played on Percy Lesueur's team when they went after the Stanley Cup in 1904. He is manager of the Galt team.

Jim Mallen, who will play center, is a Morrisburg boy, and a brother of Ken Mallen of the Ottawa team. He is a crack stickhandler and shot. Mallen is the scorer of the Galt team.

Harry Dougherty, left wing, is a Berlin boy. He has been playing with the Galt team for several years. Jack Fraser, right wing, completes the line. He used to play with Arn prior in the Upper Ottawa league and was a member of that team when they won the championship of the Ottawa Valley.

Fraser played with the Ottawa Victorias when they clashed with Wanderers for the Stanley Cup two years ago, being with Brandon team last winter.

There will be no arrangement between the Eastern League and American Association after next year though a friendly relationship will be maintained. The American Association will limit its clubs to twenty players each.

There will be double headers every Thursday evening. The first game commencing at 8 p.m. sharp and the second at 9:15. Tomorrow night both games will be handled by thoroughly competent officials, Jack Winchester, referee and Harold Deaton, judge of play, and they will make the most play hockey from the drop of the hat. General admission is 25 cents, which admits to both games. The fixtures for tomorrow, are: 8 p.m., Y. M. C.

The line-up of the several teams will be published in Thursday's paper.

Now everybody get out and help to keep amateur hockey alive in Edmonton.

At the first practice of the Kingston Frontenacs, Marty Walsh, of the Ottawas, and Lieut. Constantine, the suspended player, were out, besides Richardson, Crawford and Davidson, the regular players.

The real contest of the evening will be that between Dr. Roller and Prof. Mike Dwyer, best two in three, catch as catch can. Roller is expected to win, but he is not holding Dwyer cheaply.

EDMONTON UNION U. F. A.

The annual meeting of the Edmonton Local Union No. 20 of the United Farmers of Alberta was held in the city hall, Edmonton. There was a good attendance, the following officers were elected:

President—Charles Burnell; vice president, W. A. Wilson. The election of directors was left to the next meeting.

The delegates to the convention to be held in Edmonton, January 19, are Charles Burnell, T. J. Hutchings, R. Owen, Francis C. Clare.

The question of the city taxing farmers living outside the city limits, who supply milk to the city, for inspection, was discussed and a resolution was passed that the president appoint a committee to wait on the city authorities with a view of having this discontinued.

S. W. Candy, Rice Sheppard, and Francis C. Clare were appointed. Further business was postponed to allow Mr. J. R. Boyle, M.P.P., to address the meeting after which a lengthy discussion took place on the hail insurance question, local improvement districts, government loans to farmers, pork packing and chilled meat questions, and direct legislation were touched upon. No resolutions were moved but some kind of compulsory hail insurance was considered to be the only satisfactory method of dealing with the question. Mr. Sheppard pointed out that the executive of the association requested the government to reduce the premiums instead of raising them this year, as raising them would only result in greater loss, which was the case.

The question of government owned elevators was brought up and their necessity fully established. It was also shown that resolutions passed at the local convention and apparently approved by the government were not acted on. For instance, that the Ordinance dealing with the fairs be altered so as to allow Local Unions of the U. F. of A. to hold a fair in districts where no agricultural society existed, or where they did exist if the agricultural society wished it.

Mr. Boyle freely discussed the various questions with the unions and expressed his pleasure in doing his best to carry out their wishes. After a vote of thanks to Mr. Boyle the meeting adjourned.

FRANCIS C. CLARE,
Secretary.

"I owe my success to newspaper advertising"

"Newspaper advertising is the secret of my success"

The Business That Isn't Worth Advertising Isn't Worth Running

At this period of the year some business men get the idea that the advertising value of the daily paper decreases- and as the holiday season draws to a close give instructions to "cut out their ad. for a while," thereby falling from the public gaze and discontinuing the solicitation of the patronage of the community.

This is not business. The readers of this paper will be reading your ad. just as conscientiously during the coming year as they have during the past month.

The successful advertiser advertises all the time. It matters not whether it is the dull season. He originates and prepares for special sales, and thus creates new business. Dull days are unknown to him. He is always looking for something that will please his customers, and tells them about it in the only logical medium—the newspapers—and the result is quick and profitable sales, all tending toward success.

The Unsuccessful

The man who never advertises is always bemoaning hard times. "No business," "Everything is dead," "Can't pay expenses," these being his daily and favorite expressions.

The real cause of this is the fact that the people do not know what these merchants have to offer. Three-fourths of the purchases that are made today are made because the attention of the shopper is called to some article that interests her and she is made to believe she must have it.

The Successful

John Wanamaker once said to a young business man who sought his advice: "I owe my success to newspaper advertising. I know that I can reach the eyes of more purchasers that way than in any other."

There is a whole business sermon in those two sentences. The secret of successful newspaper advertising is three-fold: First, in having the goods the people want; second, the price; third, the ability to attract your readers. And the way to attract them is to follow Mr. Wanamaker's advice and use the newspapers—they are your salesmen.

Mr. Wanamaker certainly must know.

One time some one asked Mr. Wanamaker why he considered the newspaper the best "puller" for the merchant. He said: "As I have spoken before, newspaper advertising is the secret of my success. Each copy is a salesman calling attention to the stock of the advertiser. How many homes are there today where the first thing they do is to look at the merchant's advertisement, whether it is the clothier, drygoods man or the furniture dealer? Let me tell you, my son, any successful advertiser in the press can answer that question, and can answer it mightily optimistically, too."

Does This Interest You

Tommy needs a new suit—is it your advertisement Mrs. Household is looking over, or is it the other man's, down the street, who lately has been forced to break ground for more space and big improvements? Sister Wants a new dress—was it your advertisement they sought? Mrs. Bargainday rushes in the house calling attention to the low-priced muslin on sale Tuesday afternoon. Whose advertisement was that? Yours?

Any kind of advertising is good, but newspaper advertising is just a little bit better.

The newspaper is the indispensable backbone of many advertising campaigns. A man buys a newspaper because he wants it. It's a necessity. Magazines or weekly papers may be a pretty essential luxury, but they can hardly be termed a necessity.

The man who finds that advertising doesn't pay is generally the one who has nothing worth selling.

British and American Capitalists Have Big Railway Scheme in Hand

(Montreal Herald)

Lord Albert Fitzroy Somerset, brother of the Duke of Beaufort, accompanied by Mr. J. E. Leiter, of Chicago, were here yesterday for a few hours in conference with local capitalists regarding a great new railway project. They are on their way through from the west to New York, whence Lord Somerset intends to sail for England on Wednesday.

During the greater part of their stay they remained on their private car, Wisteria, outside Bonaventure station, and there they were seen by a Herald representative to whom some particulars were given regarding the big railway project with which they and a number of western capitalists are associated.

The line which it is proposed to build has been authorized under two charters which their syndicate have secured from separate groups of promoters, and under these it is proposed to construct a line from Winnipeg to Lethbridge at the base of the Rockies, and from there by way of Calgary and Edmonton, to Dawson City, and the Yukon gold fields.

The road would be not far short of two thousand miles in length and would involve an outlay in construction and equipment of about $50,000,000, but it is considered that the enormous wealth of the Peace River Valley and the gold fields stretching beyond it towards the Yukon, which are still believed to embrace the mother lode from which the gold of the Klondike originates, came would yield in abundance the most lucrative kind of traffic.

Lord Somerset says the charters which have been secured are those of the Northern Empire Railway Company, and the Manitoba and British Columbia. The whole of the interests represented by these two companies have been absorbed by the syndicate which will shortly be formed into a company. No difficulty whatever is anticipated in the matter of raising of the necessary capital for this gigantic enterprise, which will be in a sense international, as it will have connections from Lethbridge to Cardston on the United States boundary from which it will connect with the Great Northern.

The mention of Mr. Hill's road naturally prompted the inquiry from Mr. Leiter whether that enterprising railway magnate was associated with the project. "I am not in a position to say what Mr. Hill's relations with the enterprise are at present," replied the Chicago capitalist, "so far as they have gone they are of a purely confidential character, but I may tell you that Mr. Hill is greatly impressed by the practicability and economic importance of the railway which he considers a good paying proposition if the contemplated route which he favors is adopted."

THE LATE INSPECTOR CHURCH

A well known figure in the life of the West and one that will long be remembered, has been removed by the sudden death of Inspector Church, of the Royal North-West Mounted Police, in the prime of his manhood. He was every inch a man. It is not at all extravagant, but plain truth, to say that it is doubtful if there was a finer horseman in the world. To have seen Inspector Church mounted on "George" would have delighted that contemporary of Shakespeare, Lord Herbert of Chesham, who said that "there is no finer sight in the world than a fine man on a fine horse." His possession of all the virtues of a soldier Inspector Church proved on the field in South Africa. He was as modest as he was brave. The sorrow for his untimely death is both deeply felt and widespread. Such a man deserves to be held in remembrance.—Manitoba Free Press.

ment of which he is regarded as one of the greatest living authorities.

Just a word or two about the gigantic gantries which had to be erected before a single plate could be placed in position or rivet driven home. These are each capable of bearing a dead weight of 75,000 tons. It took nearly twelve months to erect them, during which time the whole of the north yard was practically idle, the total cost being close upon 400,000 sterling, of which the gantries and slips cost 250,000 pounds, the balance being made up of hydraulic and pneumatic plant, alteration of works, and a floating crane capable of lifting at one haul a weight of 250 tons.

A NEW PORT GRIMSBY

To be Established on Pacific Near Terminus of the G. T. P.

Prominent members of the Grimsby fish trade, says a Liverpool dispatch, are about to establish a Grimsby in the West. It is intended to develop a fishing industry at a new port to be named Port Grimsby, at the mouth of the Skeena river, British Columbia. A town is to be linked up with all the towns of Canada and to the United States by the Grand Trunk Pacific, and it is intended to establish a fishing centre, with docks, wharves, wholesale fish markets, cold storage, salt and coal depots, fish curing, oil, and fertilizer works, similar to those in existence at Grimsby, Hull, and Aberdeen, England. The moving spirits in Grimsby are Mr. James Schofield, Mr. Thos. Bascom, and Mr. John L. Green. Valuable sites, water frontage, and existing canneries have already been secured, and several travelers will be sent from Grimsby to establish the nucleus of a fleet.

ALBERTA LOOKED GOOD TO HIM

"Going back home tonight. Came for a week and stayed a month." This was the manner of the greeting we received from our genial North Dakota friend Mr. D. Wilson who has been here on a visit to his son, Mr. W. J. Wilson. In reply to our query as to if he was coming back, Mr. Wilson said, "Yes, in March, going to file on land in Calgary tomorrow. Not come back? Why, say, I've been wearing my summer clothes ever since I came up. Yes, sir! I wore them driving into town the coldest day we've had and not been chilly even. And my granddaughter writes from down home in Caledonia and says that the weather has been terrible, snow, blizzards, forty below zero, weather, and here I've been walking around in my shirt sleeves." This is what a Dakota man said about Crossfield and Alberta. Mr. Wilson went to Dakota from Stratford, Ont., in '79 and settled in the famous Red River district, where the crops of wheat now average twelve bushels to the acre as against Alberta's forty! No wonder Alberta and looks good to these Dakota men. Mr. Wilson, however, found one fault with the country and it was the scarcity of unmarried pretty girls. We asked him to speak to the editor of the Herald of Omemee, N.D., and see if arrangements for the shipping of a couple of car loads of the Dakota product could not be put through, we guaranteeing to find a market for same.—Crossfield Chronicle.

Are Edmonton business men making enough of an effort to push their goods out into the province?

With railway lines being constructed in every direction, the city should become a great commercial centre.

But they cannot receive business by standing idle and waiting for it to pour in.

They must get after it.

To reach those outside the city, an advertising medium exists in Edmonton, which couldn't be better suited for the purpose.

The Alberta Homestead

is a provincial agricultural journal, published weekly, and going into five thousand Alberta homes.

It was established two years ago and has now made a solid place for itself among country readers. With the first of the year, its size is being increased fifty per cent. There is no doubt about it's becoming the Family Herald of the west.

The advertising rates are still low, though with the larger increases in circulation, which it is making, these must be advanced at an early date.

A wise business man will not delay in making a contract for considerable space in the columns for the coming year.

Its want advertisement department at one cent a word, six insertions for the price of four, is an inexpensive and certain result getter.

Miller McCormick of the church camp missions is making an effort to have a series of reading rooms organized in each of the railway camps, and for this purpose is appealing to the citizens of Edmonton for reading matter. All contributions towards this purpose will be received through Archdeacon Gray. The carrying out of this idea will enable between 5,000 and 6,000 men to be well supplied with books, papers and magazines during the coming year.

The house and lot which was sold by public auction by the Quick Exchange Realty Co. on Tuesday night was knocked down to A. F. Ewing for $3,600. W. H. Morris looked after the bids.

The Day in Strathcona

PERSONAL AND LOCAL.

The University opened today. Almost all the students had returned from their homes to continue their work at the University. Once more from the corridors resound the busy hum of voices after a stillness of two weeks. Today commenced the hard term which does not end until June 1st.

Mr. Chas. H. Graban is confined to his house with a severe gash in the foot which was received in the hockey game on New Year's Day. Mr. Graban expects to return to work next week.

J. W. Bengough, the celebrated cartoonist, will appear in the Assembly Hall of the Collegiate Friday, January 14th.

The opening game of the Inter-collegiate League will be played in Strathcona rink on Friday, January 7th, at eight o'clock.

The matron of the city hospital wishes to express her thanks to those who donated gifts to the hospital at Christmas and New Year's.

Mr. W. H. Supple has been confined to his home for the past few days with a severe attack of la grippe. The friends of Mrs. J. Gainer will be pleased to know that she is resting easily after the operation. It is hoped the operation may be entirely satisfactory and that Mrs. Gainer will be up shortly.

University Foundation Finished.

The foundation of the Arts Building of the University will probably be finished today. The work has been well and rapidly done. It is expected that the dormitory will also be commenced in the spring. Brick is being hauled daily to the site, and in the early spring the construction will be continued.

BOARD OF TRADE

Informed by Mr. Douglas that Large Postoffice and Army will be Erected

At the Board of Trade yesterday there were twenty members present. Mr. Weir, vice-president, presided. J. M. Douglas, M.P., was in attendance. A communication was read from V. Colouthier, clerk of committee having in charge the eight-hour draft bill before parliament. He submitted a draft and asked the Board of Trade to give its opinion. The secretary was instructed to say the Board did not approve of the measure.

A. G. Harrison, secretary of the Edmonton Board of Trade, wrote conveying the protest of Edmonton business men against the curtailment of the Sunday mail service. The Board made a motion against any limitation of the P. O. service.

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., is reforming its Board of Trade, and asked for suggestions.

The report of G. L. Porte on the work at Chicago was given. The money had been well spent. The exhibit proved an education to many Americans who knew not where Edmonton and Sault were. He recommended showing at Toronto next year and said he had not enough literature. His register showed over 4,000 who were anxious to know of Alberta.

Re the C.N.R. survey which parallels the C. and E. Messrs. Calder and Jamieson were made a committee to draft a further resolution to try to get the C.N.R. to diverge farther west than at present contemplated.

Mr. J. M. Douglas, M.P., told the Board that though only $25,000 was in the estimates, he could safely say that a post-office, costing between $5,000 and $10,000, will be commenced next year, also that the armory would be commenced this year and would probably cost $20,000.

The annual meeting will be held the first Tuesday in February.

The Want Ads Are

Business Peacemakers!

In the store, the office, the factory, the work-places, the home—wherever human interests clash, wherever workers and employers come to be discordant, wherever new workers or new work are the urgent need—the road to peace lies through the want ad. columns.

In almost every case, a peace-wrecking incident of daily life needs but the simple remedy of a little want advertising—whether it is the sudden exit of the servant, stenographer, clerk, cook, boarder, roomer, tenant; or the unexpected need to quickly "raise some money."

More and more, every day, in the lives and affairs of the people of this city, the want ads. are coming to play the parts of adjusters, of vexation-preventers, of BUSINESS PEACEMAKERS!
